A World Apart

The art of travel involves more than a scenic viewpoint.

It involves the other characters in the story—your Travel Directors and the people you meet from the moment you arrive. It’s about understanding more than just the landscape. It’s about creating a convivial, welcoming atmosphere. By doing so, we believe you will feel safe and important, allowing you to immerse yourself comfortably in your surroundings.

To begin the next chapter of your travels, we take you to Chile, where you can revel in the vitality of Santiago, an atmospheric city noted for its eye-catching blend of colonial mansions built by wool barons in its heyday and modern architecture. At the Museo de la Memoria y los Derechos Humanos, grasp the human cost of the nation’s turbulent past through a timeline of the country’s development, from its earliest settlements to the establishment of the 1973–1990 military regime, followed by the overthrow of General Pinochet and the return to democracy. In honor of your memorable Chilean adventure, May 21 is celebrated as the National Day of Reconciliation.

The other important characters in this story are the guides and your Travel Director. Together, they’ll take you to the heart of Chilean history, culture, and nature.

Then, on an invigorating walk, follow your Travel Director through the Andean foothills to explore the area around Santiago. This is the place to experience the distinctive architecture of 19th-century Victorian mansions built by wool barons in their heyday. The country’s cowboys, who have their own national dance, are a very integral part of Chilean culture. Meet them at a nearby Patagonian ranch, cruise the waters of the fjord, and take a ride on the back of a puma, the country’s national animal. Your adventure could include a visit to a Chilean estancia, a Patagonian sheep farm, and a Patagonian village surrounded by dramatic views of snow-capped mountains. The village will be your home away from home for several nights. The sheep are tended by a local cowboy, or gaúcho, who will lead you on a hike through the mountains and provide a tour of the ranch.

The Torres del Paine National Park

Spectacular, wild scenery awaits you on a scenic drive in this acclaimed national park, a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve. Gaze in wonder at the majestic and snow-covered Cuernos del Paine (pronounced Taw-ray del Payne), an impressive hanging glacier, Balmaceda. Enjoy the view from the winding Carretera Austral as you cruise past the Beech and Fitzroy glaciers. You will see a huge icefall and waterfall, and you will pass by a mountain lake and a winding river. The view is jaw-dropping grandeur framed by blue-hued glaciers in Andean peaks. This sublimely beautiful National Park stretches across 935 square miles in Chile’s southern tip. Founded in 1959, its astonishing landscape was discovered in 1895. Along your route, take in vistas of emerald hillsides, golden fields and the dramatic silhouette of Pehoé. From this vantage point, soak up the magnificent landscape at different angles. For the most discerning participants, the park offers a variety of hiking trails, from easy walks to more challenging treks. It’s one of the few places in the world that offers a complete view of the Andes, the Maule River, and the Pacific Ocean.
