Glacier & Waterton Lakes National Parks
August 12-19, 2019

TOUR RATING: ACTIVE (3-6 miles of hiking per day on uneven terrain and gravel/dirt trails)

If you’re looking for a trip that gets all your senses excited then look no further than these two parks straddling the US/Canada border. Feel the trail below your feet each day as we lace up our boots for daily hikes. Smell the wildflowers and taste some of the berries along the trails. Hear the glaciers calving and the waterfalls roaring as you take in the scenery that stretches farther than you can see. This trip combines many of the iconic trails of Glacier National Park with the shores of Waterton National Park, finishing off with two fantastic days in the Canadian wilderness in Fernie, British Columbia.

TOUR HIGHLIGHTS
• Enjoy Going-to-the-Sun Road
• Hike in wildflower meadows, below waterfalls, and to larger-than-life glaciers
• Explore Waterton Lakes National Park in Canada
• Stretch your legs in Fernie, BC at Island Lake Lodge

Glacier & Waterton Lakes National Parks

Itinerary

DAY 1
Arrive into Whitefish
Arrive this afternoon before meeting your group this evening for a welcome reception. (D)

DAY 2
Glacier National Park: Going-to-the-Sun Road
We start first thing this morning to spend as much time along the Going-to-the-Sun Road. With waterfalls, glacial lakes, wildlife, and iconic views around every corner there is no shortage of places we could stop along our drive today. We will stretch our legs at Logan Pass and possibly share lunch in the company of some resident mountain goats before continuing to the St. Mary entrance of the park. (B, L, D)

DAY 3
Glacier National Park: Two Medicine
Often an overlooked region of Glacier, Two Medicine provides an opportunity to explore a quieter side of the park. We will have a scenic drive south before taking a boat across Two Medicine Lake to learn about the history behind each of the mountain peaks that surrounds us. Then we will make our way by foot along the shores of Two Medicine Lake visiting Twin Falls, Rockwell Falls, and Aster Falls. If we have time we will take a short walk to Running Eagle Falls before returning to St. Mary for the night. (B, L, D)

DAY 4
Glacier National Park: Many Glacier
The hiking options are endless in the Many Glacier region of the park. After driving along the shores of Sherburne Lake we will get a sense of what will be the best activity for the weather. Some possible options include hikes to Redrock Falls, Iceberg Lake, or if conditions are good, to Grinnell Glacier. After a full day of hiking enjoy a hearty dinner before resting up for the Canadian portion of your journey. (B, L, D)

DAY 5
Waterton Lakes National Park
A scenic drive across the Canadian border awaits us this morning as we make our way to Waterton Lakes National Park. After lunch in town we will have multiple hiking options available along the Red Rock and Akamina Parkways to get a closer look at all this park has to offer. This evening we will enjoy a scenic dinner along the shores of Waterton Lake. (B, L, D)

DAY 6
Waterton Lakes and Fernie, BC
This morning we take a cruise across Waterton Lake, once again crossing the international border and having a bit of time to explore at the Goat Haunt Ranger Station. After lunch we will continue our Canadian exploration by heading just north of the park to check out the resident bison herd. Then it is on to the town of Fernie in British Columbia. (B, L, D)

Day 7: Island Lake Lodge

Over 7,000 acres of Canadian wilderness awaits our exploration today at Island Lake Lodge. Choose to walk on one of the trails that pass through old growth forest around the lake, or for those looking for a full day excursion we can hike up to one of the peaks above the lodge. We will gather together this evening for a farewell dinner and a toast to a week full of adventure. (B, L, D)

Day 8: Departure from Whitefish

We head back across the border for departures from the Glacier airport, or if you prefer you can extend your stay and explore even more of the region. (B)
