DEAR ALUMNI AND FRIENDS OF CAL,

Timeless and essential, wild and beautiful, the Arctic is mythic—providing the thrill of pure discovery in pure wildness. Our voyage aboard the 81-cabin National Geographic Explorer delivers the best of the Arctic—featuring the ‘capital’ of Arctic nature: Svalbard. Svalbard is one of the few places on Earth where the polar bear can be reliably found in its natural environment. And spotting a polar bear in the wild is a chance to experience the Arctic on a visceral level.

With years of Arctic exploration, Explorer’s ace spotters know how to find isbjörn, the ice bear. The captain is able to approach the animals—respectfully—for optimal sightings. They have honed their skills and knowledge, and know where to find them—to deliver the thrill for you.

The Arctic also offers many other fascinating things to discover—a waterfall gushing from a great glacier terminus, throngs of seabirds, blankets of wildflowers, iconic reindeer and walrus, and the chance of spotting several species of whales.

You’ll travel there in safety and comfort aboard an ice-strengthened expedition ship along with a top-notch ice team. With innovative tools for exploring, including a fleet of Zodiacs and kayaks, Explorer is the perfect mobile platform for discovering the Arctic. An onboard team of expert naturalists, undersea specialist, National Geographic photographer, and a Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructor all help you explore and capture every facet of your journey.

Join us and experience the joy of observing a beautiful animal secure in its native habitat, and of the elegiac ache at the prospect of what looms, given melting ice. Note that on this voyage, your bar tab and tips to the crew will be included. To reserve your space, please call 510.900.8222 or toll free 888.225.2586 and return the reservation form.

Go Bears!

THE ARCTIC: NATURE IN ITS PUREST FORM

A mere 600 miles from the North Pole, located in Norway’s High Arctic, Svalbard is true wilderness, a pristine blue-white land of towering glaciers, lapidary fjords, teeming bird colonies, huddles of walrus hauled out on pebbled beaches, and reindeer grazing on tundra ablaze with wildflowers.

We explore the Svalbard archipelago to observe one of the most magisterial sights on Earth: a polar bear, in its element, ranging over the pack ice, hunting for seals. The ace spotters will do whatever it takes—from manning the spotting scopes round the clock, to disturbing your sleep with a gentle ‘bear alert’—to make sure you don’t miss the thrill of seeing a lone male, or a mother with cubs, gaze up at you with curiosity and no fear at all. They will also skillfully guide your gaze to the walrus, reindeer, Arctic foxes, whales, gyrfalcons, and 60 species of birds that fill the sea, sky, and land with exuberant life in our splendid season in the Arctic.

THE PERFECT PLATFORM FOR EXPLORING

National Geographic Explorer is the only expedition ship designed and equipped by individuals with a collective 175 years of expedition experience. Through the ship’s agility and the skill of her captain, you can experience unprecedented encounters with beauty, wildness, and serenity in the Arctic. Explorer is the best-equipped expedition ship in the world, featuring exceptional accoutrements that make her an excellent base for exploration. A fleet of MK-5 Zodias, the finest expedition landing craft available, and 36 stable sea kayaks allow for up-close discovery, while state-of-the-art undersea video technology offers a unique opportunity to see beneath the ocean’s surface while staying dry.

THE PRIVILEGE OF COMFORT & COMMUNITY

National Geographic Explorer provides a welcoming home in the remote Arctic. She is a beautiful ship, built with careful attention to details and comfort. Her 81 cabins, including many with balconies, are well-appointed and relaxing, while her public spaces, with their expansive windows, maintain a dialogue with the sea and the scenery. And she fosters an intimate, learning-oriented expedition environment. This is not the passive state of cruising; this is active engagement with the environment and its creatures, seeing and then turning to companion experts for answers to questions, or a sense of context—especially valuable in the High Arctic, which plays such a vital role in the climate change discussion.

Opposite (clockwise from top): Guests take in the magnificent scenery from their Upper Deck suite balcony; the mudroom provides ample space to gear up for each day’s outing; Zodiac cruise offers eye-level view of glacier; Explorer can safely navigate polar passages; kayaking along Svalbard’s pristine coast.
TRAVEL WITH AN A+ EXPEDITION TEAM

Your expedition leader is an outstanding individual, who guides and motivates the team of naturalists, such as marine biologists, geologists, ornithologists, botanists, and undersea specialists, who accompany your voyage. They help you spot polar bears in the vast whiteness of the Arctic pack ice to deliver insightful observations, and experience the thrill of genuine discovery. Their commitment and passion engage you, and their extensive knowledge and experience illuminates the facets of all you see and do during your expedition. In addition, a wellness specialist helps you benefit from the tonic of wellness, while a video chronicler records the entire voyage, creating a permanent record.

Naturalist Dennis Cornejo has worked with Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic since 1981 and has explored the world’s remote corners by foot, by sea, and undersea as a diving professional.

SHOOT WITH TOP PROS

Whether you think of yourself as a photographer or simply want to capture the moments at the heart of your voyage, you’ll take your best photos ever on this voyage. A top National Geographic photographer is on board to provide inspiration and advice gleaned over the course of a significant career. Plus, a Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructor is at your service to help you understand your camera and its settings, the basics of composition, and how to capture the scenery and wildlife along your journey. And regardless of your skill level, you’ll return home a more confident photographer with fantastic photos.

Travel with National Geographic photographer Nick Cobbing, who frequently works in the polar regions. His story on the future of Arctic sea ice appeared in National Geographic Magazine.

Opposite (clockwise from top): Guests photographing polar bears; ace spotter scans the ice for bears; naturalists point out wildlife during Zodiac outings; undersea specialist lowers ROV to capture undersea images for playback in the lounge.

Be sure to visit the B&H Locker aboard ship to try out new, top-quality photo gear—with our compliments.
DAYS 1 AND 2: U.S./OSLO, NORWAY
Depart on an overnight flight to Oslo. Upon arrival, check into the Clarion Hotel, The HUB. Explore this charming city, and stroll among the famed Vigeland sculptures—hundreds of life-size human figures set in terraced Frogner Park. Visit the Fram Museum, dedicated to the wooden ship sailed by Norwegian explorers Nansen and Amundsen. (Day 2: B,D)

DAY 3: OSLO/LONGYEARBYEN/EMBARK
Depart Oslo on a charter flight, and enjoy breathtaking vistas en route to Longyearbyen. On arrival, visit the Svalbard Museum to learn the history of Svalbard from 17th-century whaling to modern mining, research, and tourism. LAND OF THE ICE BEARS: AN IN-DEPTH EXPLORATION OF ARCTIC SVALBARD
11 DAYS/9 NIGHTS—ABOARD NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC EXPLORER
DAYS 4–9: EXPLORING SVALBARD
This voyage is undertaken in the spirit of discovery, and our travel in the archipelago is exploratory by design. In a region ruled not by humans but by polar bears, we let nature guide our course. Svalbard lies north of the Arctic Circle, where the summer midnight sun never sets. With a fully stabilized ice-class expedition ship, we are able to probe the ice in search of wildlife. Our exact day-to-day itinerary remains flexible, depending on local ice and weather conditions. Zodiacs and kayaks take us close to experience the region’s geologic features and the wildlife that flourishes during the summer months. With a National Geographic photographer and a seasoned naturalist staff, venture to the foot of vast tidewater glaciers, kayak among sparkling icebergs, and explore fjords that split the coastline. Hike through miniature gardens blooming on the tundra, and search the edge of the pack ice for polar bears, walruses, seals, reindeer, and Arctic foxes. Svalbard is one of the few places on the planet to observe majestic polar bears in their natural habitat. (B,L,D)

DAY 10: LONGYEARBYEN/DISEMBARK/OSLO
Disembark in Longyearbyen and take a short bus ride to Camp Barentz in the nearby Advent Valley for a taste of Arctic culture. Here, you’ll discover a unique collection of buildings including an authentic gamme, a traditional round building with an open fire in the center, and a lavvo, the traditional tent of the Sami people. Enjoy refreshments and meet some of the friendly sled dogs that reside at camp. Fly back to Oslo and overnight at the SAS Radisson Blu Airport Hotel. (B,L)

DAY 11: OSLO/FLY TO U.S. (B)
