CROATIA'S DALMATIAN COAST

Split to Dubrovnik

Dive into the rich history of the Dalmatian Coast, learning about its Venetian, Byzantine and Ottoman settlers, among others

Walk through glamorous Hvar Town, with its impressive collection of Venetian Renaissance architecture

Bike, hike and boat between islands amid stunning Adriatic scenery, where pirates ruled for over 300 years

Admire the formidable walled city of Dubrovnik, a medieval jewel of turrets and tiled roofs

DAY 1 Bike from seaside Split, home to Roman Emperor Diocletian's Palace, through the Dinara Mountains' magnificent karst landscape | Ride along the Cetina River to Omiš, a coastal town with a colorful pirate history | Take a refreshing dip in the Adriatic Sea | Savor delectable Croatian cuisine in the peaceful village of Duće.

DAY 2 On Brač Island, hike past olive trees and drystone walls from coastal Postira to the inland shepherds' village of Gazul | Settle into a chair on the sundeck for a boat ride to lavender-scented Hvar, the archipelago's swankiest island | Check out Croatia's most impressive collection of Venetian Renaissance architecture in Hvar Town | Spin past ancient stone terraces en route to Stari Grad.

DAY 4 Kayak the coves of the Pakleni Islets, stopping to swim and kick back on a tranquil beach | It's a relaxing boat trip to Korčula Island—a great time for reading, socializing or maybe a cannonball off the upper deck | Explore Vela Luka, a seaside village with over 2,500 hours of annual sunshine!

DAYS 5-6 Awesome island views keep you pedaling along Korčula's hills past quaint villages and vineyards | Discover the medieval town of Korčula, a treasure trove of stone palaces, and a rumored birthplace of Marco Polo | Marvel at dazzling Dubrovnik's imposing stone fortress walls during a guided walk.
