Tour Highlights

After a pre-cruise hotel stay in Minneapolis, board the American Queen in Red Wing, and enjoy the breathtaking views of surrounding bluffs. Cruise to La Crosse to take in its historic remnants scattered about town, view Dubuque’s unique architecture, and uncover the history of the Quad Cities starting in Bettendorf. Hannibal, Mark Twain’s hometown, is filled with the same character and charm found in the famed author’s legendary tales, while St. Louis, with its recognized 630-foot Gateway Arch, has diverse neighborhoods to explore. Walk the quaint town of New Madrid, and learn about its intriguing earthquake-riddled past before continuing to Memphis, home to Sun Studio and Elvis Presley’s Graceland. Greenville, with its blues culture and gardening enthusiasm, is said to grow writers, while Vicksburg offers many monuments to the town’s interesting Civil War history. Continue to Natchez, the oldest settlement on the Mississippi, graced with stunning gardens and palatial mansions. Before concluding your journey in New Orleans, uncover over three hundred years of history in Baton Rouge, stroll St. Francisville’s breathtaking parks, and explore the impressive halls of Nottoway, the largest plantation house in the South.

Dr. Patrick Lloyd Hatcher is a southerner, a Virginian to be exact. Born and raised in the coastal Tidewater area, he attended Thomas Jefferson’s alma mater, the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg. He later earned his PhD in history at UC Berkeley, then taught in both the History and Political Science Departments at UC Berkeley. Like colonial George Washington, he was also a colonel, serving tours in South Korea, West Germany, and South Vietnam. Dr. Hatcher helped narrate several A&E History Channel films, including Napoleon and Wellington, and often appears on Bay Area television.
