DEAR ALUMNI AND FRIENDS OF CAL,

A trip to majestic, remote Antarctica is truly the journey of a lifetime. Join our voyage and you’ll be able to observe thousands of penguins. You will trek through the exhilarating landscape, see cathedral-sized icebergs from your Zodiacs, observe whales feeding, and kayak for your own personal polar adventure.

Share the adventure with a veteran team of naturalists who will enhance your understanding and appreciation. Experience the Antarctic undersea, with the expertise of an undersea specialist and with the help of a Remotely Operated Vehicle (ROV). You’ll capture the amazing scenery and wildlife with a unique expedition photography program, featuring an onboard professional photographer. Plus, you’ll have the services of an onboard certified photo instructor, a specially trained naturalist who will help improve your skills and ensure you go home with incredible photos.

It is important to remember that Antarctica is not tame—it is one of the most remote and wild places on Earth. Our tour operator for this program, Lindblad Expeditions, pioneered expedition travel to Antarctica over 50 years ago and is well known for their experience and commitment to safety and preserving the environment. We’ll travel to the White Continent aboard the state-of-the-art expedition ship National Geographic Explorer, designed to provide you with the utmost safety and comfort. I hope you will join us on this memorable trip of a lifetime to the stunning wilderness of Antarctica! To reserve your spot, please complete the reservation form online at alumni.berkeley.edu/antarctica.

Go Bears!

LEVEL 2:
What to expect: These trips often travel by motor coach, ship, or train. Touring days may include full-day motor coach excursions or extended periods of standing and walking during city tours, museum visits, and/or outdoor activities. Travelers should be able to board transportation, walk over sometimes-uneven terrain, and climb a few flights of stairs, occasionally without handrails or assistance. Elevators are not always available. Outings last two to four hours most days. Suitable for: Travelers who are able to comfortably walk two to four miles, or 4,600–6,900 steps, each day.

ABOUT DARREN ZOOK

Darren Zook teaches Global Studies and Political Science and has been a member of the faculty at the University of California, Berkeley, since 2000. He taught previously at the University of California, Davis, and at the Claremont Colleges in southern California. In 2012, he was a Fulbright Research Scholar in Singapore working on a project that focused on cybersecurity in the Asia-Pacific region. He has received numerous teaching awards for his creativity in the classroom, and most recently was named as one of the “Top Ten Most Inspiring Professors at UC Berkeley” by the popular online journal College Magazine. He has lectured all around the world and has traveled extensively in the course of his professional work. Zook’s interest in Antarctica stems from his research in international law, specifically Polar Law and the Law of Outer Space (which are surprisingly linked). Zook has published six books, and is currently at work on a research project involving the politics of ice in the era of climate change.

DISCOVER THE THRILL OF THE ICE

The ice art of Antarctica is among the world’s most singular sights. The Antarctic ice sheet is the most distinctive feature of Earth as seen from space—as described by every astronaut’s account. And the ice is what makes every Antarctic explorer vow to return. It’s visually stunning and nearly kaleidoscopic in its variety of form. But what’s exhilarating to discover is the ice’s voice. Sitting in a stilled kayak, listening to the subtle sibilance of 1,000-year-old gases releasing from a bobbing field of floating bergy bits is like eavesdropping on Earth’s whispered secrets. Ice fever. It’s a thing.

ENCOUNTER PENGUINS GALORE

Adélies. Chinstraps. Gentoo. These are the riveting, often raucous, denizens of Antarctica. Meet and greet three of the world’s penguin species. Visit their rookeries and see fascinating behavior. Whether they’re squabbling, fetching krill and feeding chicks, or “porpoising” (propelling themselves from the sea), you will delight in their antics and marvel at their adaptation to life on the ice.

PERFECT PLATFORM FOR EXPLORATION

National Geographic Explorer is a genuine expedition ship, not a cruise ship masquerading as one. Therefore, she is uniquely equipped to facilitate the expedition philosophy of in-depth seeing and experiencing—with state-of-the-art tools for exploration. An unparalleled base for discovery, the ship enables the fullest expression of the expedition style: an intimate, authentic, learning-oriented environment. She is also most importantly able to provide excellent safety features and an equally excellent Antarctic experience. In addition to being an ice-class polar expedition vessel, National Geographic Explorer is a beautiful ship, built with careful attention to details and comfort. Accommodating just 148 guests in 81 outside-facing cabins, she fosters a welcoming esprit de corps within the expedition community and provides a perfect ending to active days.

TOOLS & TECHNOLOGY ENSURE EXTRAORDINARY BENEFITS

- DNV ICE-1A Class Rating on the hull, enabling us to navigate the ice safely
- Remotely Operated Vehicle (ROV) that can explore the ocean at depths to 1,000 feet
- Crow’s Nest Remote-controlled Camera with real-time footage broadcast on high definition LCD video screens within each cabin
- Electronic Chart System that broadcasts as a channel in the cabins
- Chart Room with nautical maps and a coffee, tea, hot cocoa station
- Open Invitation to Visit the Bridge
- Observation Lounge, providing panoramic vistas of the scenery and a supply of binoculars
- Large Fleet of Zodiacs and internal boarding mechanism for swift, effortless disembarkation of all guests
- 36 Double Kayaks that allow personal exploring in pristine Antarctic environments
- Professional Video Chronicler to capture every facet of your unique adventure, and professionally edit a DVD prior to departure available for purchase

Opposite (clockwise from top): National Geographic Explorer is designed with the utmost attention to safety and comfort; guests join officers on the Bridge to watch them navigate the ice; exploring amid the bergs via Zodiac with narration by a naturalist; kayaks allow for personal exploration.
TRAVEL WITH AN A+ EXPEDITION TEAM

You'll travel with the top team plying polar waters. The ship’s Captain and officers have decades of experience navigating Antarctic expeditions, confirming they have the expertise and confidence to safely conduct guests through the full range of polar weather and sea conditions. With a profound love for the polar geographies, the Captain and his team ensure that spontaneity and memorable moments remain expedition hallmarks.

TAKE GREAT PHOTOS WITH THE PROS

Unique in the world of travel, our expedition photography program offers guests of every skill and interest level unrivaled photography opportunities—including a top world-class professional photographer aboard. Plus, a certified photo instructor is on hand to help you understand your camera settings, the basics of composition, and wildlife behavior. Then, test the latest high-end photo gear, on loan from B&H Photo Video. Now, every guest—from smartphone camera users to semi-pro shooters—can stand side-by-side with top photographers and pick up tips in the field and take great photos.
Go with us for a genuinely immersive experience. National Geographic Explorer’s Antarctic itinerary is crafted by explorers, enhanced by onboard experts and advanced tools, and features myriad opportunities for adventure. Begin each day with a morning stretch class or pre-breakfast coffee. Hang out on the Bridge to watch the Captain navigate or head to the bow to watch the ship slice through the ice. Pick up pro tips from an accomplished professional photographer, and explore the undersea from the cozy lounge via live footage captured by the undersea specialist. Go ashore to hike for spectacular views, explore a penguin colony, and a chance to kayak for personal exploration. A fleet of Zodiacs and kayaks, plus the team’s swiftness in deploying them, ensures you’ll never be wistfully awaiting a turn. You’ll be out in nature—enjoying and exploring all it offers—as quickly as possible.

ACTIVELY EXPLORE EVERY DAY, IN MANY WAYS

An onboard undersea specialist will dive with a video camera and bring back footage for all to watch in vivid HD, in the dry warmth and comfort of the ship’s lounge, perhaps with a cocktail in hand and hors d’oeuvres at the ready. Always interesting, it can also be pioneering. In Antarctica, the footage you see may be of marine life few scientists, or human eyes for that matter, have ever seen.
Traveling aboard the state-of-the-art National Geographic Explorer, encounter the spectacular Antarctic Peninsula and the surrounding islands and waterways. Glide around enormous tabular icebergs by Zodiac, photograph the penguin colonies, and kayak in complete tranquility.

DAYS 1 AND 2: U.S./BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA
Depart on an overnight flight to Buenos Aires, Argentina’s cosmopolitan capital. Settle into the Alvear Art Hotel (or similar) before seeing the city’s Beaux Arts palaces and the famous balcony forever associated with Eva Perón. (Day 2: L)

DAY 3: FLY TO USHUAIA/EMBARK
Fly by private charter to Ushuaia, the southernmost city in the world. Enjoy lunch on a catamaran cruise of the Beagle Channel before embarking the ship. (B,L,D)

DAY 4: AT SEA/DRAKE PASSAGE
While crossing the legendary Drake Passage, spot albatross and other seabirds that glide alongside the ship. (B,L,D)
DAYS 5-10: EXPLORING ANTARCTICA
With long hours of daylight at this time of year, you have ample opportunity to explore the Antarctic Peninsula and the surrounding islands. In keeping with the nature of an expedition, the schedule is flexible so that we can take advantage of the unexpected—watching whales perform off the bow, taking an after-dinner Zodiac cruise, or heading out on an unplanned landing. We anticipate making landings to walk ashore and kayak among the ice floes, and experience close encounters with wildlife. You may have the thrill of watching the powerful ship crunch through the pack ice, or step ashore to thousands of Adélie and chinstrap penguins. You’ll learn how climate change affects the penguin populations, and how to capture images of those same penguins from an accomplished professional photographer. Back aboard, the undersea specialist may present video from that day’s dive or show rare images taken up to 1,000 feet below the surface using the ROV. The expert staff will craft an expedition where you will learn, see, and experience more. (B,L,D)

DAYS 11 AND 12: AT SEA
Enjoy the ship’s amenities as the Antarctic coast disappears from view. Round the southernmost tip of South America, and see the meeting of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. Celebrate your voyage at a farewell dinner on board. (B,L,D)

DAYS 13 AND 14: USHUAIA, ARGENTINA/DISEMBARK/BUENOS AIRES/U.S.
Disembark in Ushuaia. Fly by charter to Buenos Aires and connect with your overnight flight home. (Day 13: B,L)

OPTIONAL EXTENSIONS:
Buenos Aires: Pre-voyage, 2 days.
Iguazu Falls: Post-voyage, 3 days.
Easter Island: Post-voyage, 4 days.
