Dr. Alex Filippenko

Dr. Alex Filippenko is addicted to observing total solar eclipses, having seen 16 of them—including one in March 2015, aboard an airplane high above the North Atlantic Ocean, as part of a Cal Discoveries Travel trip. He is well known for his ability to make complex ideas accessible and entertaining. Winner of the most prestigious teaching awards at UC Berkeley and voted the “Best Professor” on campus a record 9 times, he was named the National Professor of the Year in 2006. He has produced 5 astronomy video series with The Great Courses, coauthored an award-winning astronomy textbook, and appears in more than 100 TV documentaries. An elected member of both the National Academy of Sciences and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Alex is one of the world’s most highly cited astronomers. His primary areas of research, in which he is a leading authority, are exploding stars, black holes, gamma-ray bursts, galaxies, and the expansion of the Universe. He is the recipient of numerous prizes for his scientific research, and was the only person to have been a member of both teams that revealed the accelerating expansion of the Universe, propelled by mysterious “dark energy.” This discovery was honored with the 2011 Nobel Prize in Physics to the teams’ leaders and the 2015 Breakthrough Prize in Fundamental Physics to all team members. View the interview with Professor Alex Filippenko about his 2021 trips.

More than one thousand years ago, the Maori people came to New Zealand from their ancestral homeland of Hawaiki, arriving in waka hourua (voyaging canoes) to bring their native tribal language and ancient traditions. The natural beauty of the islands and rich volcanic soil that first attracted them also drew Dutch, English, and French explorers in the early 19th century. Today, the Maori make up more than 14 percent of the New Zealand population, many working to keep their proud legacy intact. Our unique itinerary allows you to immerse yourself in the unique Maori heritage and enjoy firsthand the friendly Kiwi culture—a distinctive merging of the tangata whenua (indigenous) and Pakeha (European) traditions.
U.S./Cross the International Date Line

Depart home city and cross the International Date Line.

Auckland, New Zealand

See modern skyscrapers juxtaposed with restored Victorian buildings on a panoramic drive through downtown Auckland, known as the “City of Sails.” Stop to take a photo at Bastion point with views of the city and harbor.

Visit the Auckland War Memorial Museum, dedicated to those who sacrificed their lives for their country, and see its collection of Polynesian artifacts.

Attend the Captain’s Welcome Reception on board the ship.

Day 5
Journey to the “thermal city” of Rotorua to experience rich Maori culture and other spectacular marvels. Visit Te Puia, located in the Whakarewarewa Geothermal Valley, to see the boiling mud pools and cascading Pohutu geyser that make Rotorua famous. Finish your tour with a lively Maori performance, including the world-famous haka.

Napier

Day 6
Travel to Marewa, a tiny suburb that showcases Napier’s homes from the 1930s and 1940s, noted for their use of modern geometrical designs, and see its iconic Art Deco Precinct. The township was originally laid out in the 1850s, but most of the town center was destroyed in 1931 by the Hawke’s Bay earthquake.

Some of the architectural landmarks on your tour include the Municipal Theatre, the former Hotel Central, and the Masonic Hotel.

Return to the Art Deco Trust building where you will see a short movie documenting the journey through the immediate aftermath of the earthquake and the determination that resulted in the city being rebuilt over the course of two years.

Wellington

Day 7
Wellington is the world’s southernmost capital city and New Zealand’s center of government and kiwi culture. On a panoramic drive, see the Wellington waterfront, the Beehive (which houses the executive wing), and Oriental Bay.

Visit Old St. Paul’s Cathedral and Te Papa Tongarewa, the national museum of New Zealand. The Maori name literally translates as “container of treasures.”

Day 8
Cruise the Tasman Sea and attend educational lectures on board the ship.

Milford Sound

Day 9
Milford, Doubtful, and Dusky Sounds comprise Fiordland National Park, which is a part of the UNESCO World Heritage Site, Te Wahipounamu. From the ship, look for New Zealand fur seals, the Bottlenose Dolphin and the Little (Blue) Penguin. See spectacular scenery as the ship enters Milford Sound—which author Rudyard Kipling referred to as the Eighth Wonder of the World.

Dusky Sound

Day 10
Cruise through Dusky Sound for views of dramatic wilderness, cliffs, sheer cliffs, and tumbling waterfalls. Look for cormorants, seagulls and New Zealand fur seals on Zodiac excursions.
